

Global populism and post-representative politics. Is democracy unsustainable?

📅 21 gennaio 2019 ore 10:30

📍 Aula 405 Viale Romania 32, Roma

Program

Opening

Leonardo Morlino LUISS

First session

Chairperson

Emiliana De Blasio LUISS

Keynote

Karlos de la Torre University of Kentucky "Global populism and processes of de-democratization"

Discussants

Loris Caruso Scuola Normale Superiore Florence

Luca Scuccimarra Sapienza University of Rome

Second session

Chairperson

Fabio de Nardis University of Salento Lecce

Keynote

Carlo Ruzza University of Trento "Populism, migration and xenophobia in Europe"

Oscar Mazzoleni Université de Lausanne "Social justice against universal values? Addressing right-wing populism in a cross-continental perspective"

Discussant

Nicolò Conti Unitelma Sapienza University of Rome

Third session

Chairperson

Lorenzo Viviani University of Pisa

Keynote

Nadia Urbinati Columbia University "The political theory of populism"

Discussants

Carlo Ruzza University of Trento

Oscar Mazzoleni Université de Lausanne

Short communications and debate

Chairperson

Debora Spini Syracuse University of Florence

With: Manuel Anselmi, Marco damiani, Emiliana De Blasio, Rossana Sampugnaro, Nadia Urbinati, Lorenzo Viviani

Conclusion

Michele Sorice LUISS

The event is held in English and Italian

QTEM

(<http://www.qtem.org/>)